PENNSYLVANIA STATE 6, GEORGE WASHINGTON 5.

In the opening game on the home grounds, the team made an admirable showing and clearly showed that there is material in it to make the best team the University has ever put forth. Considering that this is practically the first game we have played and the very little time the team has been able to practice, the indications are all that could be desired. With such good work this early, there is every reason to look forward to a successful season.

The chief weakness noticeable in this game was the weakness in throwing. This was to be expected, considering that there has been practically no opportunity to do any practice. The team bats well and receives the ball as well as could be expected. But for one or two bad errors the possibility of which will be eliminated with a week's practice, the game would have been won. As it was, the showing against Pennsylvania State was better than that made by Virginia just the day before, who was beaten by a score of 5 to 3.

Manager McEnery has arranged a very strong schedule, one that will bring some of the best and most representative teams to our diamond; teams that are supposed to be out of our class, but with the team as it worked in this game, we expect to win a majority of the games.

Thomas pitched the first six innings and did unusually well, the opposing team being held down to a few scattering hits. He can be counted on to do as good pitching as any one.

Stevenson caught an excellent game, being especially good in stopping difficult balls. With him behind the bat, that position will be well taken care of.

On first, Webber showed up well, the balls missed by him being impossible to handle on account of the ground.

Capt. Bradley, at second, played an excellent game, making several brilliant stops.

Campbell, at short, who has just recently come out, is good at handling grounders and seems to know the game thoroughly, but at present is handicapped by a sore arm. He hits the ball, but puts it too much in the air.

Morissey plays third excellently considering the little practice he has had.

Senior's batting was a feature of the game, his three-bagger the first time up bringing forth applause. In the field he played an errorless game.

Price brought down several flies in center very beautifully and used the bat to good effect.

Burkett, in right, was bothered by the sun, but made up for this at the bat, lining out two good ones.

Hutchinson took Thomas' place in the seventh and after the first inning did effective work.

As this account had to be hurried to press, it was not possible to get a detailed account of the game.

The attendance at the game was not such as a good exhibition as this and Manager McEnery's efforts deserve. The students must attend to enable good teams to be brought here.

THE CINCINNATI DEBATE.

In order to encourage the early purchase of tickets by students of the University, tickets for the Cincinnati debate are being sold by a member of every class in every department in the University, and these tickets are for the best seats in the Belasco Theatre. If you wait until the last moment to buy your tickets, you are certain to get a less desirable seat, and you may even find it necessary to be seated apart from your classmates. Under the present arrangement nearly all the students of the University will be massed in the orchestra—law students on the left, medical men on the right, and students from the other departments in the middle. Trustees, invited guests, and members of the faculty will occupy the balcony and some of the boxes. The Mezzanine boxes will be occupied mainly by Fraternities and other student organizations.

Unfortunately the change of date for the debate has made it impossible for Secretary Bonaparte to serve as one of the judges. His place will probably be taken by Professor Rowe, of the University of Pennsylvania, President of the Academy of Political and Social Science.

Of the total cost of the debate, which will probably exceed $300, it is understood that the faculty of the University has already pledged itself to bear approximately one-third. In view of this it would certainly be a shame if the students did not bear their part of the burden.

The Cincinnati team, which will stop at the Riggs House while in this city, consists of Edward Wm. Pfluger, '07, Law; John D. Ellis, '07, Col.; Isaac Landman, '06, Col.; with Otto Krippendorf, '06, Law, as alternate. Our own team has already been announced as consisting of C. W. Whitmore, '06, Col.; Louis Cohen, '06, Law; F. D. Couden, '08, Law; with A. D. Hindman, '08, Law, as alternate.

SPECIAL.

Some when handed a subscription blank and asked to subscribe for a copy of The Mall, which is to appear May 10, answer that they will not subscribe now, but will wait till the book appears and buy if they like it then. The manager wants it distinctly understood that no indefinite number of the books will be printed. He can't afford to run the risk of having a number left on hand, a dead loss to be made good to the printer out of his own pocket. The number subscribed for by April 12 will be printed, and no more. Therefore those who wish to be sure of getting a copy would do well to see their class editors and put in a subscription. So confident are the editor and manager that the book will be worth more than the price, that they will willingly release anyone who does not think the book worth the money, from his obligation to purchase.

It is a plain business proposition, the manager cannot afford to have a lot of extra books made up and then run the risk of not disposing of them.

A FINAL WORD.

April 9 is the last day on which a picture may be taken for The Mall. The management has done its best to get the picture of everybody and organization that should go in the book, and feels that it will be free from any fault if anything fails to go in that should be published.

If there is any more copy to be handed in, it should be done at once. Delay will mean its failure to be published.

AN ALUMNUS.

THE TRACK TEAM DANCE.

On Saturday, April 21, at Carroll Institute, will be held the second Track Team benefit dance. The team this season has proved itself worthy of all the support which it has received from the student-body and the alumni, and though supported entirely by the strenuous efforts of its managers in securing financial aid it has succeeded in being represented at most of the important meets in this section of the country.

In the near future it had been planned to hold an inter-class meet, a dual meet with Georgetown and to send men to the University of Pennsylvania annual relay games, where every educational institution of any importance is annually represented. In the present state of the treasury it seems impossible to fulfill these duties and Manager Turkenton has decided to make one more appeal to the loyalty of the student body.

Unfortunately, though numerous trials were made, the management was unable to secure a hall for any other night than Saturday, and it is feared that Saturday being generally the night of the various fraternity meetings, this conflict of dates may tend to keep some from being present. In view of this fact a special appeal is made to fraternity men. Come late if you can't get off early! But be sure to come and show your college spirit!

Though it is rather early to prognosticate, nevertheless everything seems to point to the affair's being a big success, both socially and financially.

Be sure not to make any other engagement for Saturday, the 21st instant.

UNIVERSITY CONGRESS.

The congress was called to order by speaker Heralson at 8.30 p. m., and House Bill No. 46, providing for a change in the system of election of U. S. Senators, to that of direct vote by the people.

Mr. Hellerstedt of Tennessee opened the discussion, in the absence of Mr. Barrett, who presented the bill.

Mr. Barker of Texas opened for the negative. Mr. Barker went right to the heart of the question, turned it inside out, dissected every portion, exposed the skeleton, put it to a chemical test, weighed it and finally applied mathematics and figured the whole scheme as a snare and delusion.

Mr. Bone of Illinois spoke with his usual spirit and moderation, laying down the law in such manner that his speech was continually interrupted by members in opposition. Mr. Barndollar of Pennsylvania made strong points on the affirmative regarding the ease with which Senators can be chosen by fraudulent means under the present system.

Mr. Morris of Kentucky delivered a speech both profound and eloquent, which was a treat to his auditors.

The discussion being closed, the bill was placed upon its final passage and voted down.

House Bill No. 47, to provide for humane disposition of insane or imbecile persons, is to be discussed April 7, 1906.

After the election of the speaker, the congress adjourned.

ENOSINIAN DEBATING SOCIETY.

Much interest was manifested at the last meeting Enosinian Society. The business before the society was the election of officers and a lively meeting was the result. After much electioneering and a few modest efforts on the part of some members to prevent their election to office, the following officers were selected:

President . . . Mr. W. C. VanVleck
Vice-President . . . Miss Adams
Secretary . . . Mr. Marye
Treasurer . . . Mr. Gates
Sergeant-at-arms . . . Mr. Whitmore
Critic . . . Mr. Block
Librarian . . . Miss Moyer

The trails for the coming debate with the Needham Society will be held Friday, April 6. The question is "Resolved, That Congress should subsidize the American Merchant Marine."

Y. M. C. A. CLUB.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Club of Columbian College, Rev. E. E. Powers, the Clubs delegate to the recent Student Volunteer Convention at Nashville, has organized a mission study class. Meetings are held every alternate Monday at 12.30 in Room 14 of the College building, and are open to all students of the University. The next meeting will be held on Monday, April 9.

COLUMBIAN DEBATING SOCIETY.

The debaters at the last meeting of the Columbian Society were given an opportunity to display some of their legal knowledge. The question involved the proper method of punishing criminals, and the relative value of different kinds of evidence.

Resolved, That the death penalty should never be inflicted in cases where the evidence is purely circumstantial, was the wording of the question. The affirmative speakers were Messrs. P. M. Jones, C. A. Miller and A. C. Agnew. The negative speakers were Messrs. M. Levine, P. A. Rehr and M. B. Goodall.

The affirmative was given the decision, and first and second honors were awarded to Messrs. Miller and Agnew respectfully.

PSI OMEGA DANCE.

Beta Gamma Chapter of the Psi Omega Fraternity gave a very pretty and enjoyable dance at Mrs. Dyer's last Friday night to its friends and schoolmates in the University. Great credit is due to Mr. M. E. Harrison for having arranged so successful an affair for the fraternity.

DENTAL.

Recent legislation relative to giving army dental surgeons the rank of lieutenant has stirred some of the senior students to make efforts toward obtaining one of the coveted positions. No doubt the army would be good practice and furnish an enormous amount of clinical information, but it seems to be the opinion in some quarters that even with this rank a dental surgeon would still be something of a "yellow cur" amongst the blooded "dogs of war." A dental surgeon is always subject to the orders of his superiors, too, and for a man who desires independence this would become irksome.

On Saturday last the senior class was surprised to receive marks in oral surgery, the examination in which occurred some weeks ago. The marks were enclosed in envelopes bearing the letter-head of the Registrar's office. Inquiry of Dr. Hagan revealed the fact that he knew nothing about the publication of these marks. The Registrar has not been seen at this writing. Some of the students are inclined to treat it as an April 1st joke. If so, it's a good one, for every man "bit" beautifully.

FRESHMAN MEDICAL.

A certain Freshman involuntarily missed a quiz Thursday afternoon. He was seen entering one of the many small rooms in the Medical Building. It required but a movement to close the door and lock him in. After quiz the door was unlocked by the janitor and the "trapped one" walked meekly forth. In the meantime, he had tried in vain to kick the door open.

No doubt you are thinking "Poor freshies! how they suffer at the hands of the soph's. If so, we must inform you that your thoughts are taking the wrong trend. G. W. U. Medical Sophs of '08 would hardly attempt a joke like that upon a freshman of '09, Nev-er! The freshman in question was trapped by his own classmates.

Buy your tickets for the affair at the Arlington, 17th inst. They may be obtained from any member of the freshman class.

Mr. Wood accompanied the track team to Baltimore Saturday and attended the meet that evening. Lorando, Gunning and Wood stayed over till Sunday night; they report a good time.

Eldridge heard Caruso sing during his engagement in Washington. The freshman class regret to say they have been hearing "Caruso" sing ever since. They have grand opera now morning, noon and night.

THE BULLETIN.

The catalogue number of the Bulletin has just appeared. It shows a total enrollment of 1,580, from 48 States and Territories and 17 foreign countries. The number is distributed as follows: Graduate studies 82, Columbian College, 303; Engineering, 135; Architecture, 37; Teacher's course, 93; Medicine, 280; Dentistry, 63; Law and Jurisprudence, 519; Politics and Diplomacy, 27; Pharmacy, 72. In the Medical Department the Freshmen class numbers 62, the Sophomore 60; the junior, 75 and the senior, 68; in the Dental, the Freshman is 23, Junior, 16, and Senior, 21; in Law, the Freshman numbers 173, Junior, 106, and Senior, 115.

In it appears the announcements of the National College of Pharmacy which in last February became a member of the educational system of the University. The building is located on I street between Eighth and Ninth streets, northwest.

The tuition in all departments hereafter will be $150.

PAN-HELLENIC RECEPTION.

On Thursday evening of last week in the Library of the College a reception was given by the Pan-Hellenic Association, including Pi Beta Phi and Chi Omega fraternities, in honor of Sigma Kappa, which has recently been installed in the University. The guests included the members of the several fraternities with their respective alumnae, the mothers of the girls, the members of the College Faculty and their wives. Miss Taylor, Miss Harrington, Miss Crew, Miss Mahan, and Miss Stephenson received the guests as they entered. After the informal reception, refreshments were served in the reception hall adjoining the Library.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN.

Mr. Gerry's lecture on the effect of novel reading on social development, given in West Hall under the auspices of the Columbian Women, was largely attended by both alumni and students. The subject was an interesting one and was well handled by Mr. Gerry who has given it much thought.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1906.

Track athletics should be heartily supported at this University. It is a form of exercise in which every student can take part, since it calls for no especial strength or skill and is open to none of the objections charged against foot ball. As an advertisement for a University it may be compared with any form of athletics, for we know that a neighboring University is known far and wide through the track work of two of its students. Then notice the advertisement the Universities sending representatives in the team of Americans going to Athens. Up till last year practically no attention was paid to this form of athletics in this University. But this year under its able managers the athletes of this team have done wonderfully well and have made us known in a new circle of achievements.

The team has participated in meets in Richmond, Norfolk, Baltimore, and Washington, and won prizes in all of them. Sterrett has established himself as the champion pole vaulter of the South.

Now since the team has shown that it can do this well, it is fitting that the students and the University come to its support. It has asked and received less from the students than any other phase of athletics, and now when an opportunity is presented to do something for this legitimate branch of college life, every one should help.

The manager will give a dance at Carroll Institute for the benefit of track athletics. If you don't care to go, buy a ticket, anyway.

DAVIS PRIZE SPEAKING.

The Davis Prize Speaking contest, one of the most important events of the year in Columbian College, will be held on April 18, in University Hall. This contest is limited to members of the Senior class and a number have signified their intention of competing.

The Davis Prizes date back to the year 1847, when the Honorable Isaac Davis of Massachusetts, established a fund of five hundred dollars, the proceeds of which were to afford "three premiums in cash or gold medals of the value of $5, $10, and $15 annually—these premiums or prizes to be distributed annually to such members of the Senior class as shall have made the greatest progress in elocution since their connection with the College."

The prizes are awarded upon original orations submitted by the contestants. Those desiring to compete must signify their intention of doing so at least five weeks before the contest, and must submit their written orations at least three weeks before. The orations thus presented are referred to a committee of prominent alumni, themselves prize-winners, who carefully examine the work of each competitor and grade it according to its literary value.

On the night of the contest the participants are required to present the same orations orally and are marked on their delivery by the same committee. The three contestants receiving the highest average grades on both the written and the oral work, are awarded the prizes, which, however, are not presented until commencement.

The Davis prizes are regarded as among the highest honors of the Senior year and are looked forward to by students throughout their entire college course. The competition for them has always been very keen, and this year promises to be no exception to the rule.

PERSONAL.

Miss Shore, of Bucknell University visited the local chapter of Pi Beta Phi the past week.

A report says that Associate Justice John M. Harlan of the United States Supreme Court has announced to the officials of the New York Avenue and Assembly Presbyterian churches that if the latter would consolidate with the former, the assembly church giving $25,000 from the sale of its present property, as a nucleus for a fund to build a new building for the two consolidated churches, he would resign his position on the Supreme Court bench to take personal charge of the work and see that it is successful.

NEEDHAM DEBATING SOCIETY.

Swayed between laughter over the trivial and humorous causes upon which divorces are often granted and strong emotions attending a stirring exposure of the terrible ravages of this evil, were the members of the Society while hearing the debate last Friday upon the question "Resolved that there should be a Federal Divorce Law." The presentation of numerous statistics, together with the citing of many authorities evidenced the careful preparation with which the debaters entered into the discussion. Particularly amusing were some of the grounds upon which divorces were often decreed. In one case snoring was considered cruelty, in another the husband's failure to wash his face was termed torture, and in still another it was held his bounden duty to take his wife out for carriage rides on the Sabbath.

Though finding it a difficult task to determine which side had presented the better arguments, the judges decided in favor of the negative, awarding first and second honors to Messrs. Schommer and Stein, respectively.

After the debate the Society received messages from Messrs. McGee and Stern of the Columbian Society, the former calling attention to the absence of any prize from the University for the Prize Debate, and the latter advocating some action toward securing a debate between the Law Departments of Georgetown and George Washington Universities. Both these suggestions were favorably acted upon.

The Society then took up the matter of representation on the Intercollegiate Debating Council. Messrs. J. A. Smith and J. T. Kennedy were the nominees for this office, the later being elected.

Particularly encouraging is the large attendance of the past two months. One of the visiting members of the Columbian Society, noting this, remarked, "Say, where do you get the mall. We will have to come around here and borrow some of your members to start our meetings off with." Nuff sed.

At our next meeting there will be a debate upon the subject submitted by the Enosinian Society for the Intersociety debate. Since we must then determine which side we will support, the presence of every member is important.

It is claimed that the new tutorial system at Princeton is changing to a large extent, the students' general conversation. The frequent informal meetings in the preceptor's studies where only intellectual matters are discussed, is accountable for this.

MEDICAL.

"Mr. Junior, kindly describe 'Whitehead's Operation.'"

"Where am I at?" Does Whitehead's operation pertain to the eye or to the toe? What lesion does it aim to correct? are a few of the questions the student must ask himself before he attempts to reply.

Not daily, but hourly, medical students throughout the country are asked to describe McBurney's point; to tell where Broca's area is situated; to give the law of Charles; to trace Gower's Column; to give attachments of the Posterior Ligament of Winslow; to tell what Goulard's Solution contains; to give symptoms of the disease caused by the Klebs-Loeffler Bacillus, and hundreds of other abstract questions which to memorize causes no small mental effort and in addition to which he must learn the practical side of Medicine.

How much better it would be if some name were given these operations, organs, drugs and bacilli which would suggest immediately what is referred to.

The tendency has always been—owing to man's desire to be classed with the immortals—for those who make discoveries to attach their names to their contributions to science and thereby impose a hardship on the students of science forever and a day. The men who devote years of their life to scientific research, and hence make discoveries, deserve credit and recognition for their work we agree, but could surely get their reward in other ways. And, too, why not consider that "The reward is in the doing?"

We are in favor of a uniform, suggestive nomenclature in medical literature for the benefit of the students who are to follow us.

Think this over and put in your bid at the next Medical Congress.

Are you sleeping with "King" these nights?

It is now time to begin feeding the rabbits on litmus milk. Easter will soon be here.

Any students of Hygiene desiring information on Ventilation can get same by applying to Chief Janitor Waring or Assistant Janitor Garton.

Tasker's illness is regretted, not only by his class mates and fraternity brothers, but by the whole Medical School—Faculty and Students. The first question one asks on arriving at the Medical Building is "How is Tasker?" and his face brightens or falls depending whether the reply is favorable or otherwise. It is worth being ill occasionally if one learns that he has so many friends.

We hope you will be with us in the near future, Tasker, and ready to make a garrison finish of the last lap of your long and "pretty" race.

It is a real pleasure to have Titus back with us again. His illness, with typhoid fever, not only deprived The Hatchet Class of one of its good students and clever fellows but the baseball team misses the services of one of the best college baseball pitchers in the South.

He showed the kind of stuff he is made of by coming down for his exam. in Medical Jurisprudence when he was so weak that he had to be helped up the steps to the lecture hall.

The Junior had an examination in Medical Jurisprudence last Saturday. Nuf ced.

Hankemeyer of the Ki Yi Class has a new compound of iron he is using in most of his prescriptions. We forget the name of it, but ask him about it. It is a good one.

Junior Medical.—Some celebrities we have and a few things they do.

We usually have a tall CLIFF right in the lecture hall, and it has very little shrubbery on top. In the line or religion we have a RECTOR and a MONK, but no Church or Monastery (except Monastery Beer). There is one lucky man in the class who ought to be able to DARNALL holes in his hosiery. A CARR runs right to the lecture hall; we have plenty of EMERY in the class but no emery wheels are visible as he keeps them hidden under his lid. Our pedal extremities should be well shod as we have two very clever SMITHIES in the class. We possess a HART and all claim to own HOLMES, sweet HOLMES. Occasionally we LEVY assessments for class pictures, etc. In the card line we have a right BOWER who is all right; and there is one man in the class who is called STOUT by all, and there are several real heavyweights in the class. Usually we C. V. GRANT at lectures and sometimes J. L. also. There is a LAMBKIN in 1907, and it's married. Our W(H)ITEHOUSE departed from our midst several moons back. A curious botanical curiosity is present in HAYWOOD, and there are usually a MESS of Juniors at Garfield Clinics.

SOPHOMORE.

Talk about the Fall of Rome! Fudge! That didn't make half as much racket as the fall of Dunmire in Dr. McArdle's lecture last week. We aren't prepared to state whether Mr. Dunn was being rocked in the tender arms of Morpheus, but it jarred us when he fell.

Said a Sophomore to a Freshman, "Well, I guess I know a thing or two." Said the Freshman, not to be outdone, "Well, I guess I know as few things as anybody."

Whenever the Professor in Materia Medica touches on the drug alcohol, it is touching to see the knowing smile that spreads over the faces of the Medics and Dentals alike. However, an occasional unwary member is found who disclaims all knowledge of it. Such an one is our friend Willis. Shall we ever be able to raise him?

We regret to report that Mr. Higgins is compelled to absent himself from school for a few days on account of the mumps. We miss him, too, awfully.

At the Fifth Regiment and Mt. Pleasant games at Baltimore last Saturday, George Washington was represented by 4 men, Sterrett, Fleming, Gunning, and Lorando.

Owing to the heavy handicaps against them, Sterrett, the scratch man, was only able to get a second place in the pole vault, while Lorando, who was also running from scratch, failed to be placed in the half mile, but got a third in the mile.

Fleming got third in the half and Gunning was just beaten out for third place in the quarter by a few inches at the finish, though he ran a very game race.

It has been found necessary in order to finance the team during the rest of the season, to give a benefit dance, and it is to be hoped that the student body will, at this crisis, lend the support which they have so consistently refused in the past. The dance will be held April 21, at Carroll Institute Hall. Without support in this movement, the management will find it impossible to observe the team's obligations for the outdoor season, chief among which are a dual meet with Georgetown, about May 5, an Inter-class Meet and representation at the annual U. of Pennsylvania Outdoor games. The question is now up to you.

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY COME OUT AND HELP THE HOSPITAL.

The Freshmen Medical students, in conjunction with the Lady Managers of the Columbia Hospital, will give an entertainment April 17, 1906, at Hotel Arlington, 8 o'clock p. m. Three fencing bouts, three vocal selections by popular talent, and dancing from 9 until 12 o'clock. All for 50 cents.

TAR HEEL CLUB, TAKE NOTICE.

There will be an important meeting of the Tar Heel Club at the Delta Tau Delta House, 1902 H St., Wednesday evening, April 11, at 8:15.

It is desired that every member be present.

PENNSYLVANIA LAW CLUB.

Impressed with the importance of the unique and peculiar decisions of the courts of record of the state of Pennsylvania, as commented upon by Dean Vance, and realizing the necessity of a better knowledge of these doctrines, the students of the Law School from that state met on last Friday and organized a club for the further study of Pennsylvania Law.

After adopting a constitution, the following officers were elected: President, John A. Smith; Vice-President, Howard W. Stull; Secretary, Paul A. Rehr; Treasurer, John T. Kennedy; Executive Committee, Messrs. Butz, Buffington and Mitchell.

The purpose of the organization is to bring the students closer together, so that they may be of assistance to each other in the study and practice of the law, familiarize themselves with the state decisions, prepare themselves for passing the state bar examinations, and to lay the foundations for an alumni association in the state of Pennsylvania.

The Club will number about twenty-five students and provision is made for honorary members among the practicing attorneys. It is intended that the Club shall meet from time to time, and especially during the summer months, when a systematic course of study will be taken up and talks and discussions by members, attorneys and professors provided for by those interested.

PENNSYLVANIA'S GREAT RELAY RACES.

Pennsylvania's Relay Races on April 28 will again be the biggest and most important sports of the season. At present writing (March 17) though the date for the entries is still distant, there are over 150 teams entered and there will be over 200 when the starter's pistol sends off the first race on the last Saturday of April. This will create a new record in the number of institutions represented at games in this country, but this would not be sufficient to make the games memorable. Not only are the entries numerous, but they are of the highest class. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Chicago, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Dartmouth, Bucknell, Dickinson, Lehigh, Lafayette, Johns Hopkins, and in fact all the big colleges and the best of the minor colleges have either sent in their entries or sent assurances that they will have their athletes at the meet. The school entries are the best ever received. Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Brooklyn, Pittsburg, Washington, Detroit, Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Baltimore, Worcester and scores of other places will be represented by their best teams. With such a gathering of the athletic clans, some magnificent races will surely result. The college championships are already attracting the widest attention because of the fact that the very best teams in the country are represented and new world's records are expected in each event. The day will thus be both interesting and exciting and as usual an enormous crowd will be on hand. The relay management will again give the schools a special rate and permit them to buy their tickets in blocks so that they may sit together for the purposes of rooting. These tickets may be obtained by having the principal of the school correspond with J. L. Fry, Franklin Field, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa. Colleges can also get blocks of seats by applying to the same person. Last year, the best seats went so quickly that some of the schools who were late in applying got the poorest or were unable to get any seats in the special sections at all.

ADOPT FOOTBALL CODE.

The pronounced and numerous changes that have been made in the playing rules of the college football passed out of the tentative stage today and became laws. The American intercollegiate football rules committee did not finish its labors as was expected, but all of the principal changes have been made and established in the new code. There will be another meeting on April 14, at which minor points not yet cleared up will be acted on; also such rearrangements in wording as may be necessary and cleaning up of inconsistencies.

Further legislation in regard to a fair catch was to the effect that the catch shall be the spot where the ball is actually caught. Under the new rules the catcher may take not more than two steps when making a fair catch.

If a player is out of bounds at the time the ball is put in play the ball shall be brought back and be played over again without penalty. That was one of the minor changes, and then tripping was defined as obstructing a player with the foot or leg.

Here is another rule adopted: "After the ball has gone out of bounds it shall be brought to the place where it went out, and the player must walk out with the referee, not less than five yards nor more than fifteen yards, and there put the ball down under the direction of the referee."

At one of the previous meetings it was announced that a forward pass could be made across opponents' goal line for a touch down so desired. But that is not to be the case, as the following action on the forward pass shows:

"A forward pass that goes on the fly over the goal line is a touchback to the defending side, and a kick that goes over the goal line on the fly or after striking the ground before touched by a player of either side shall go as touchback to the defending side."

An exception to this is that a place kick or drop kick over the crossbar shall count as a score. It was further ruled that a "kick-off" may be run in without violating the rule dealing with touchbacks.

The rules are to be so worded as to compel a man who is supposed to be on the line of scrimmage to take his position in a bona-fide way; that is, he must stand up squarely. More addition to forward-pass requirements was that a forward pass by the side that does not put the ball in play shall not be allowed.

It was voted that such rules as are at present passed have been finally passed, and that at the next meeting no changes will be in order except, first, changes in wording; second, inconsistencies; third, such other changes as may be allowed to come before the meeting by the unanimous consent of the members present.

EXCHANGES.

Cornell won the championship of the intercollegiate Triangular Debate league by defeating both Columbia and Pennsylvania, on the question, "Resolved, That American cities should seek the solution of the street railway problem in private ownership and operation." Pennsylvania took second by defeating Columbia in New York.

Brown University won the championship of the Triangular Debating League, defeating the Dartmouth team at Hanover, and winning from the Williams team at Providence. The Williams second team won from the Dartmouth second at Williamstown on the same evening. The subject at all three debates was, "Resolved, That it would be for the best interests of American colleges that no money should be expended for the maintenance, coaching, traveling expenses and equipment of athletic teams engaged in intercollegiate contests, except from the voluntary, bona fide contributions of the student body."

Columbia has 96 students whose homes are in Europe. This is an increase of 95 in 11 years. Pennsylvania has the most foreign students, the greatest part of whom are studying dentistry. In the nine largest colleges in the country, there are altogether six hundred students from abroad.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, professor at Princeton, told the girls in one of the eastern seminaries that the woman who cannot write a pretty letter is lacking the aesthetic, and begged them to cultivate the gentle art of letter writing. Some of the suggestions were: "Don't quote," don't use foreign expressions and "don't be effusive."

Andrew L. Smith, ex-fullback on University of Pennsylvania and formerly of Penn State, has commenced libel suit against the editor of McClure's magazine for statements made in that magazine last summer concerning him.

In the debate between Johns Hopkins and Virginia held in Charlottesville (a week ago), Virginia was successful. The subject of debate was, "Resolved, That municipalities should own and operate their own railroads." Hopkins had the affirmative and Virginia the negative. Mr. Lee Bidgood, the best man of the trio that Virginia sent against us was one of the winning team. There will be two more debates between the two universities.

Vincent M. Stevenson, Pennsylvania's All-American quarterback and debarred captain-elect for next fall, has signed a contract to coach V. P. I. next fall.

At the time of the Cincinnati debate on Thursday, April 12, which begins promptly at 4:45 p. m., all classes will be suspended. To gauge the student attendance subscription blanks are now in circulation. Let your class be the banner class by getting the largest percentage of pledges. If you do, your class has first choice of seats.

Henry B. Post, captain of the Columbia crew, elected at the end of last season, has resigned his position on account of conditions in his studies. Gerald S. O'Loughlin, captain of the varsity eight last year, was elected to succeed him. The case of Post bears a strong resemblance to that of Thomas J. Thorp, who captained the football team of the Blue and White last fall until he was dropped from the university for failure to keep up in his studies. Post had trouble continually with the faculty on account of his academic standing, and finally ordered to stop rowing for a month to catch up with his work. He immediately resigned his captaincy, and will not be out for practice again unless he makes up his deficiencies.

Harvard won the sixteenth annual debate with Yale by the unanimous decision of the judges. This is the twelfth of the sixteen annual debates that have been held with Yale that has been won by Harvard.

The question for debate was: "Resolved, That it would be for the best interest of New York City to own its street railway system; the term 'street railway system' being taken to mean elevated, surface, and subway lines." Harvard supported the affirmative from choice, and Yale the negative.

The judges were Hon. Melville E. Stone, of New York City, general manager of the Associated Press; Rev. Robert Stuart MacArthur, D.D., LL.D., of New York

City; and Rev. James Monroe Buckley, D.D., LL.D., of Morristown, N. J., editor of the Christian Advocate.
